2. Subject of the Agreement, Client Account, and Fees

2.1 The Broker and the Client enter a contract (hereinafter referred to as the "Agreement") pursuant to Article 4 of Regulation (EU) 2019/1238 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 20 June 2019 on a pan-European Personal Pension Product (PEPP) (hereinafter referred to as the "PEPP Regulation"). The provisions of Sections 43 et seq. of Act No. 566/2001 Z.z. on securities and investment services and on the amendment of certain laws, as amended (hereinafter referred to as the "Securities Act"), shall apply to this Agreement in respect of matters not regulated by the PEPP Regulation and the national regulations applicable to the PEPP and its payout and savings phase. The Broker undertakes to provide the Client with a pan-European personal pension product (hereinafter referred to as "PEPP") based on a risk mitigation technique that adapts the placement of investments in securities and other financial instruments (hereinafter referred to as the "Securities" or "Financial Assets") progressively over the course of the savings phase with the aim of mitigating the financial risks of investments for different age groups with respect to the remaining savings period (lifecycle strategy). The provision of PEPP under this Agreement includes the management of the Client's portfolio, namely the management and administration of the Client's cash and Financial Assets, including the safekeeping, procurement, and sale, as well as maintaining the Client's account meant for operations related to PEPP in accordance with the PEPP General Terms and Conditions, the Price List, and the Client's Investment Strategy which are annexed to the Agreement, and the Client undertakes to pay the Broker's remuneration for PEPP services at the amount, due date, and payment method listed in the Price List and in the PEPP General Terms and Conditions.

2.2 Based on the obtained information and according to the investment strategy chosen by the Client, the Broker undertakes to i) ensure the creation and management of the Client Portfolio in accordance with the lifecycle strategy technique, ii) purchase and sell Securities to / from the Client Portfolio, iii) manage the Client Portfolio, perform legal acts necessary for performing and maintaining the rights associated with the financial instruments, and the Client undertakes to cooperate with the Broker ensuring the acts related to the fulfillment of the Broker's obligations under this part of the Agreement, in particular providing the necessary authorisations and documents in due time. The Client's Investment Strategy is part of the contractual documentation provided to the Client.

2.3 For the purpose of PEPP provision, the Broker has a client bank account established in a bank for clients, designed for operations related to PEPP, which will be used for payment transactions related to PEPP provision. The Client's financial resources do not bear any interest from the Broker.

2.4 For the purpose of PEPP provision, the Broker may also use an omnibus technical client account to which he maintains client accounts and sub-accounts to secure the separation of the assets of individual clients.

2.5 The Broker shall maintain a personal retirement account for the Client in which the Broker shall record the Client's transactions and contributions. The Broker charges the Client's account with fees related to the provision of investment services according to the Price List.

3. Conditions Related to the Provision of PEPP

3.1 Description of the Basic PEPP and Alternative Investment Options: Both the Basic PEPP utilizing the 100-60 Life Cycle Investment Strategy (hereinafter "Basic PEPP") and the alternative investment option utilizing the 80-60 Life Cycle Investment Strategy (hereinafter "Alternative PEPP - Conservative") are designed based on a risk mitigation technique. This technique seeks to allow the PEPP saver to recover the invested after-fee capital and is based on a life cycle approach that uses a strategic reallocation of capital from riskier assets to safer assets to maximize returns in the earlier product stages and to provide stability and growth in the late product stages. The risk mitigation technique begins 10 years before retirement age by shifting assets from stock to bond ETF investments to minimize the likelihood that after reaching retirement age a saver will have lower value of saved assets than his or her contributions. The risk mitigation technique gradually increases the rate of shifting savings from the stock component to the bond component. The Client has chosen the PEPP investment option set out in Article 1 of this Agreement. The Client has the possibility to change the investment option at any time free of charge.

3.2 Sub-Account Opening, Savings and Payout Phase Terms and Conditions: The terms and conditions of the savings and payout phases are governed by the national legislation of the Member States and vary from sub-account to sub-account. The Client has opened a sub-account as specified in Art. 1 of this Agreement and its terms and conditions are set out in Annex 1 of this Agreement. The Client acknowledges that the terms and conditions of the savings and payout phase for the subaccount may be changed by law during the term of this Agreement and will be updated by the Broker in the key information available at www.finax.eu/ie/legislation.

3.3 Pension Benefit Choice: The Client has chosen a pension benefit specified in Art. 1 of this Agreement for the selected sub-account. If the Client has multiple sub-accounts open that allow for multiple types of retirement benefit payouts, the Client shall choose a type of pension benefit for each sub-account. The Client may change the form of retirement benefit payments free of charge for each sub-account opened:

- one year before the start of the payout phase,
- at the beginning of the payout phase, or
- on a change of PEPP provider.

3.4 Portability Service: The Client has the right to continue contributing to an existing PEPP account even after changing residence to another Member State. In the event of a change of residence, the Client may apply for a new sub-account or contribute to an existing sub-account. The Client may apply to open a sub-account for the countries in which the Broker provides PEPP, and the specific terms and conditions for opening and managing the new sub-account shall be subject to an addendum to this Agreement. If the Broker does not offer the option of opening a sub-account for the European Union Member State to which the Client moves, the Client may request a change of PEPP provider. Information on the Member States for which a PEPP sub-account is available is stated in the PEPP Key Information at www.finax.eu/ie/legislation.

3.5 Switch of Providers: The Client may switch PEPP Providers in accordance with the PEPP Regulation. The Client's relevant sums of money or Securities may be the subject of the transfer to an account held with the new provider. The switch of providers is free of charge except where Securities are to be transferred. Information on the switching service is set out in the Switching Information document at www.finax.eu/ie/legislation.

3.6 Client Account Information: The Broker will provide the Client with information on the Client's PEPP account balance, a statement of PEPP benefits, and information about individual executed trades electronically at the designated time following the applicable law.

4. Client Portfolio Management and Valuation

4.1 The Broker performs the valuation of Financial Assets in accordance with the valuation principles for individual Securities and other financial instruments. The valuation by the Broker is decisive for determining the value of the PEPP Client Portfolio.

4.2 The Broker undertakes to invest Financial Assets held in the Client's account set up for the purpose of PEPP under the agreed investment strategy. The Client bears the full risks associated with the development of individual currencies and prices of Securities, and the result may also be a loss.

4.3 The Broker undertakes to secure custody and records of the Client's Securities as well as to manage the Client Portfolio. The Broker shall provide evidence of the Slovak book-entry securities through the Client's account held by the Broker and/or via the Client's account in the Central Securities Depository or at a member of the Central Securities Depository. The Broker will ensure the custody, records, and management including management of foreign securities in cooperation with a foreign company that manages the securities.

4.4 The Client has the right to ask for an assessment of the Client Portfolio's value at any time, and the Broker is obliged to deliver this assessment by the date specified in the Client's written request. If the term is not specified, the Broker is required to send the assessment within 15 working days after receipt of the written request.

4.5 The assessment of Client Portfolio value is determined by the sum of the current values of financial instruments, other securities, and financial funds in the portfolio. The value of financial instruments in the portfolio is determined using the valuation techniques that are common in individual financial markets. The valuation process of individual components of the Client Portfolio is set out in the Broker's PEPP General Terms and Conditions.

4.6 The current value of the Client Portfolio is its valuation (assessment of value) on a specified date. The net current value of the Client Portfolio is the current value minus applicable fees charged to the Client Portfolio.

Annex 1: Terms and Conditions of the Savings Pay-in Phase and Pay-out Phase (Including a Description of Pension Benefits)-for Irish sub-accounts

1. Pay-in Phase:

A PEPP saver might become a natural person under 75 years old, as PEPP accounts must vest by age 75. Contributions to the Irish PEPP sub-account may be eligible for income tax relief. The amount of tax relief available depends on:

1. Age-related limits, calculated as a percentage of the saver's relevant earnings for the tax year;
2. A minimum relief threshold.

For the taxes, applicable limits and thresholds, please refer to Section 787Z of the Taxes Consolidation Act 1997 (as amended) and Section 20 of the Finance Act 2022. These limits apply to the total contributions made to a PEPP, PRSA, RAC and/or an occupational pension scheme.

2. Pay-out Phase:

The tax legislation of a Member State of residence may affect the actual payout.

Withdrawals from a PEPP are treated as income and are therefore subject to Pay As You Earn (PAYE) income tax. Up to 25% of the accumulated value of the PEPP sub-account may be taken as a tax-free lump sum subject to a maximum tax-free amount.

If no retirement benefits have been drawn from the PEPP by the time the Client reaches age 75, the account will automatically be classified as a vested PEPP. In such circumstances, the PEPP is treated as fully withdrawn for tax purposes, and Irish income tax is applied to the entire value of the PEPP unless the funds are transferred to an Approved Retirement Fund (ARF) before a client reaches the age of 75 or fall within another exemption permitted under Irish Revenue rules.

Pay-Out Eligibility:

1. The Client can exercise their right to a pension under the PEPP at the earliest when they reach the age of 60 but have not yet reached age 75;* or
2. The Client works in an occupation in which people customarily retire before age 60, in accordance with the Irish Taxes Consolidation Act 1997, and have reached age 50 but not yet age 75; or
3. Permanent incapacity: At any time, if the Client becomes permanently incapable, due to mental or physical infirmity, of carrying out their own occupation or any similar occupation for which they are trained or qualified.

* There is no automatic payout at age 60. The Client must actively choose to begin withdrawals. If no action is taken by the month in which the Client turns 75, the account will be treated as a vested PEPP, which results in tax consequences.

Forms of pension payout under PEPP

Depending on the request of the Client, the payout can be made in a lump sum, gradual drawdown of funds, or a combination of the stated options. Lump sum may only be taken on the first occasion that benefits are taken from PEPP.
